Define your problem statement

As online transactions grew in popularity, cybercrimes also grew quickly. Because of the anonymity offered by the internet, hackers try to trick users by using techniques like phishing, SQL injection, malware, man-in-the-middle attacks, domain name system tunnelling, ransomware, web trojans, and other forms of attack. Phishing is said to be the most misleading of all of these tactics.

Brainstorm

Dhinesh.M(Team Leader)

Difficult to block "redirecting pages," as these URLs can be disguised

To keep track of all potential phishing techniques, use an intelligent online security gateway.

Analytical comparison of trustworthy and fraudulent websites

Gunasekaran.R(Team member 1)

Web phishing detection with advanced deployment

Maintaining web phishing records with a spam repository

Observation of resource loading times to identify fraudulent websites' tendencies to display just costs rather than their functionality

Jefril Angelan.R(Team member 2)

Link pathways are being traced after detection of tampering

By contrasting it with real online domain names, homograph spoofing can be identified.

To check for extended links and prevent link shortening because most fraudulent websites use the "bit.ly" extension

GokulaKrishna.K.S(Team member 3)

Incorrectly worded keywords and odd website changes

Requesting confirmation of unrelated qualifications

Verify secure web protocols like "https" visually
